

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

NEW YORK

PREFACE.

SEVERAL years experience as a teacher in the public schools of California has taught me that any plan of school-work on any given subject that tends to lessen the labors of the teacher or the pupils, not only becomes popular, but stimulates a desire for further investigations in the subject thus treated.

It is not the purpose of this little book to take the place of the "State Series Civil Government," but rather to be used as a supplement to it. The plan has been to place the subject matter in so simple a form that the pupil may be able to see at a glance the relations the parts sustain to each other, and thus save much hard labor.

The author claims originality only in arrangement, for the greater part of the subject matter treated, has been taken from the "State Series Civil Government."

J. J. D.

SUGGESTIONS TO TEACHERS.

AS THIS book is intended to be used as a supplement to the "State Series Civil Government," the subject matter is arranged in the same order as it is in that book, but I would suggest that the County be studied first, the Federal Government next, and the State last, that the pupil may be able to compare and to contrast the State with the Federal Government.

As some parts of the county government vary according to the class of the county, that part has been omitted from this book, but the required information may be obtained by applying to the county clerk.

Assign a portion of the work for a blackboard exercise and require the pupils to reproduce it from memory at the next recitation. In addition to the knowledge gained from the subject matter treated in the text, the form will serve as a basis for an interesting oral exercise.

At the close of the book is a list of test questions, some of which may be used in connection with the other work, or in a separate exercise.

PROCESS OF LAW-MAKING.

1. A bill, a draft of a proposed law, may be introduced into either house by one of its members.
2. It is then referred for consideration to the appropriate committee. If this committee is favorable to the bill it is returned to the house in which it originated and its passage recommended.
3. It must then be printed and read three times on separate days, but the house may, by a two-thirds vote, order the three readings on one and the same day.
4. It may, by a vote of the house, be amended by adding to, striking out, or altering any of its provisions.
5. After the third reading, if the bill passes the house by a majority vote of all the members elected, it is then sent to the other house where it goes through a like process.
6. After having passed both houses by a majority vote of all the members elected, the bill is then sent to the Governor for his consideration. If he approves the bill he signs it and it becomes a law. If he disapproves the bill he returns it to the house in which it originated, stating his objections, and it fails to become a law, and is said to have been vetoed.
7. If the bill is reconsidered and passed by a two-thirds vote in each house it becomes a law without the Governor's signature.
8. If the Legislature is in session and the Governor fails to return the bill within the ten days allowed by law, the bill becomes a law without his signature.
9. If the Legislature adjourns and prevents the returning of the bill the Governor must sign it within the ten days or it fails to become a law, and such failure is said to be a pocket veto.

Practical Aids to the Teaching of Civics

By S. D. WATERMAN, Former Superintendent of Schools, Berkeley, Cal.

The author of this book has succeeded where so many others have failed—in giving a clear and accurate treatment of the Government of both city and nation. Also he has skillfully handled many topics that are not found in other books; yet which are demanding public attention. Among them are the organizing of political parties and conventions, the Direct Primaries, the Recall, the Initiative and the Referendum. The book is adapted to use in all other states as well as in California. Price, in strong cloth binding, 60 cents.

Civil Government Simplified

By J. J. DUVALL

It is the purpose of this little book to supplement any text book on Civil Government, and particularly the "California State Series." The arrangement of the subject matter is so simple, yet comprehensive, that the pupil may learn at a glance the relation of the different parts of government. Bound in leatherette, 25 cents net.

PRACTICAL AIDS TO LITERATURE

NUMBER ONE

"The Legend of Sleepy Hollow" and "Rip Van Winkle"

By J. W. GRAHAM, Superintendent of Schools of Kings County, California

In this little book the author has embodied the best plans of the most successful teachers of English just as they were used in the schoolroom. The technical part of grammar is entirely omitted and the study of real English kept constantly before the pupil. The obscure passages are made clear either by a skillful use of questions or by brief foot notes. Bound in leatherette, 25 cents net.

NUMBER TWO

"Lady of the Lake," "Evangeline" "Merchant of Venice," "Snowbound" and "Vision of Sir Launfal"

By J. W. GRAHAM, Superintendent of Schools of Kings County, California

A complete plan of work is given for each poem treated, together with a list of questions carefully selected and calculated to so lead the pupil step by step to a clear understanding of each subject. It is suitable for use in either the grammar or high schools, and a most practical help in teaching literature in the grammar grades. Bound in leatherette, 25 cents net.

NUMBER THREE

"Evangeline"

(Longfellow)

With Notes and Suggestions for Study, by ARTHUR L. HAMILTON

This edition of "Evangeline" is issued specially for teachers whose time is limited and who cannot, for that reason, prepare suggestions for pupil's study in English work. It is a reproduction of Mr. Hamilton's class work on the Poem, and is given out because it represents a successful handling of the subject of English. Each volume is neatly and strongly bound in leatherette. Price, 25 cents net.

NUMBER FOUR

Sir Walter Scott in the Schools

A Study of "Ivanhoe" and "The Lady of the Lake"

This book is the actual material used by the author in teaching the above named English masterpieces to High School Classes. Emphasis is given to all sides of English study. Primary attention is directed to the masterpiece as a work of literary art. This is made a basis for history, analysis, style, paragraphing, diction, grammar, derivation, definition, and original composition. Bound in leatherette, 25 cents net.

Poems for Memorizing

(Graded)

By ALICE ROSE POWER

These selections have been tried in the different grades and approved by practical teachers. The literary and ethical value of these poems makes it the most valuable list published for school use. As a desk book for teachers, a library book for pupils and parents, and as a reader for all classes, it furnishes the best material obtainable. Price, cloth, $1.00 net; boards, 60 cents net; paper, 35 cents net; paper, parts I and II, each 10 cents net.
